Assignment 2 - Thought Note

In this assignment I got to learn about various things like about background-color, background-image, gradient, flex, grid and many more which I have used in this project. I have used all I learnt in this assignment and hope that it is up to mark if there is any issue with anything please let me know which I can fixed and know my mistake.

In this assignment I fist I create a home page which contain two two background-image, first is for the body the another one is above body in which I have given two buttons and each button contain seperate sepecific content which I have done for the first time and it was interesting to do.
